LOSSES BY FIRE.

New York, December 5.—The Brooklyn Theater...

LOSSES BY FIRE.

The fire spread with lightning rapidity and burst out on Washington street. The panic and confusion among the audience were terrible.

LOSSES BY FIRE.

The fire was caused by the gas setting fire to the wood work in one of the wings.

LOSSES BY FIRE.

The fire originated in the flies, which, blazing, fell on top of the scenery. One of the actresses came to the front of the stage, and said, "A small accident has occurred, but don't be alarmed; only a piece of fly on fire."

LOSSES BY FIRE.

On the mention of the fire, the audience rose to their feet, and made a wild rush for the doors.

LOSSES BY FIRE.

The smoke soon became suffocating, and women fell fainting in the aisles and were trampled over.

LOSSES BY FIRE.

Numbers jumped out of the windows and were severely injured.

Three were picked up and sent to Long Island College Hospital and are not expected to live.
